Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

AN EXTRA SESSION

Of Congress Likely to be Called in March

TO RATIFY THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE,

As Expressed at the Polls at the Recent Election, by the Enactment of a Reform Tariff Measure—An Imperative Demand.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Amongst the immediate consequences of the verdict at the polls the strong probability of the fifty-third congress being called in extra session immediately after the inauguration is already discussed here.

An extra session of the senate is always called at the begining of a new administration, to confirm the officers and the new diplomatic agents of the United States abroad. But the present election having turned on the question of domestic policy, it is obvious to experienced political leaders of all parties that an extra session of both houses of congress will almost inevitably result. Secretary of the treasury Foster, among others, admits this. The party; he says, challenged the judgment of the country on the McKinley bill, and the result must be accepted as the work of the will of the people, that a different policy shall be put into effect.

Ex-Secretary Bayard writes to a friend here to like effect, adding that the people will expect this to be done without unnecessary delay.

President Harrison, it is stated, has determined to leave unfilled the vacant missions to Italy, Portugal and Switzerland; also the assistant secretaryships of the treasury vacated by Messrs. Crounse and Nettleton.

Chairman Tom Carter may return to the land office, which he vacated to take charge of the campaign, and hold for the remaining 100 days of Mr. Harrison's administration, if he so desires. It is stated that with the single exception of Secretary Rusk all the members of the cabinet had intimated to the president their intention of resigning on the 4th of March; hence their plans will not be materially disarranged.

The probability is discussed of the president paying a visit to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. McKee, in Boston, before returning to Indianapolis and the practice of law.

An Imperative Demand Which the Successful Party Must Obey.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Chicago Herald to-day says:

There is no serious question in any quarter as to what Tuesday's popular verdict means. It means that McKinleyism is most emphatically condemned. Mr. Foster, Harrison's secretary of state, expresses the truth when he says:

The party challenged the judgment of the country on the McKinley bill, and the verdict must be accepted as the will of the people that a different policy shall be adopted.

Gen. Palmer, Mr. Springer and other leading democrats express themselves to the same effect. It is the will of the people that a different policy should be adopted with respect to the tariff, and all democrats who have been chosen to represent the people in congress and in the White House must respect that will without hesitation, without timidity and without delay.

When the people have expressed their will with tremendous emphasis as they have in this instance, there is no reason why they should have to wait thirteen months for the newly-chosen representatives to assemble, and four or five months more for them to formulate and enact laws giving effect to the new policy demanded. It is the opinion of the Herald that Mr. Cleveland should convene the fifty-third congress as soon as possible after the 4th of next March. In view of the overwhelming expression of public opinion last Tuesday he can hardly do less.

Congress need not sit all summer, or enter upon the work of general tariff revision. It can repeal the McKinley act, except as to sugar, which may well be reserved as a source of revenue in future in case of necessity; put wool and other raw materials on the free list; reduce the rate on finished products to match, in the manner indicated by the several house bills of the last session; instruct the ways and means committee to prosecute the work of general revision during the recess, and then adjourn. This will be a great beginning considering that the World's fair is to be held next summer. It will serve as a suitable notification to foreign exhibitors and others who will be here in great numbers that we have adopted a more liberal commercial policy and that we have invited them to come here for some more substantial purpose than to make an empty show.

CONSUL-GENERAL NEW

Is Unable to Account for the Democratic Landslide.

LONDON, Nov. 11. — Consul-General New in discussing the election in America said: "There is no accounting for the landslide. I don't understand it. By the way what is the latest news from Japan?"

Omitting to reply to the question, the correspondent went on to ask Mr. New, why, in his opinion, Indiana and Illinois had given a democratic majority.

Mr. New—Ah, yes; the fact is, Indiana was democratic for fifteen years with the exception of the years when Gen. Garfield and Gen. Harrison were elected to the presidency. The legislature is largely democratic. As to Illinois, it appears that the foreign vote in Chicago has carried the state for the democracy. The success of the Farmers' Alliance, or people's party, is certainly amazing. It is likely that they have carried three or four western states on the silver question. Republicans and democrats are not willing to go as far as the alliance people in regard to silver. Hence Colorado has revenged herself by voting for the conglomeration of political heresies called the people's party. By the way, what do you think of the lord mayor's show?"

The correspondent forgot to reply to this query, and returned to the charge with the question: "Do you expect any radical tariff legislation?"

Mr. New—In regard to the tariff any new legislation will be impossible until the next congress, which meets, according to law, in December, 1893, and any legislation then enacted would become operative only in the subsequent year. The senate, which is apparently republican, would defeat any radical attempt to change the tariff."

Consul-General New was asked if he proposed to resign. He said that he proposed to remain in office until his term expired. He added that he attributed the surprising victory in New York to the efforts of Tammany hall.

Fifty-Third Congress.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—More than forty-eight hours after the polls have closed it is still impossible to give the status of the several parties in the Fifty-third congress officially. The developments of the day tend to confirm to the point of absolute certainty, the statement made originally in the United Press dispatches that the balance of power in the next senate would be held by the third party; although by a narrow margin. The democrats will gain seven seats in New York, Wisconsin, Wyoming and California, giving them forty-three. The republicans will retain a successor to Senator Paddock, from Nebraska, and also to Senator Perkins, from Kansas, although the legislature in this state is still close. The legislatures of Minnesota and Michigan have republican majorities. The republican strength in the senate is thus reduced to forty-two, leaving to Senators Peffer, Kyle and Stewart, (who will succeed himself from Nevada) the power to control the organization by alliance with either of the parties. The expectation is that they will operate with the democrats in this matter.

Up to midnight the result in congressional districts in New Hampshire, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and California was unsettled, the figures not having been fully reported. The probabilities are that the state delegations in the next house of representatives will stand as follows:

ENGLISH STATESMEN RETICENT,

But Evidently Pleased at the Political Revolution in the United States.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The correspondent of the United Press tried yesterday to get the opinions of prominent men upon the subject of the recent presidential election. Members of the government who were applied to did not consider it discreet to comment on foreign politics, and could not be induced to express their opinions.

Mr. Gladstone was wired, and replied that he was unable to offer any opinion.

Mr. Mundella, president of the board of trade also declined to say anything beyond that he wished all happiness and prosperity to the United States, its people and its government.

Prof. Brice said he could not with propriety as a member of the British cabinet express an opinion on questions relating to American party politics.

Mr. Howard Vincent, member for Sheffield, said that he regarded Cleveland's victory as showing that America was justly alarmed at a prospect of British protective retaliation and that England's injured industries are now triumphant.

Lord Salisbury, Mr. Balfour and others declined to express opinions. The democratic victory has already given great hopes to the Irish linen manufacturers, consequent on the mistaken idea that the McKinley bill is to be repealed forthwith.

South Dakota Given Up to the Republicans.

YANKTON, S. D., Nov. 11.—Otto Peemiller, chairman of the democratic state committee, yesterday gave up hope that South Dakota would go for Weaver and acknowledged everything in the state as republican, even to the legislature. He says the independent promises for Weaver failed to be delivered, but that the democrats followed the advice of their leaders and voted for Weaver. He regards the election as showing the populists much weaker than was expected in the state.

Van Osdell, independent candidate for governor, also gave up the fight yesterday. Mr. Van Osdell expended considerable money in the campaign and took defeat sorrowfully.

Cleveland's Majority in Texas Greatly Reduced.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 11.—Cleveland's majority is greatly reduced from four years ago. There has been much swapping because of local and state elections, and the Hogg men have scratched Cleveland extensively.

The populist ticket has developed unexpected strength all over the state. Speculation is rife here that Hogg, if the legislature is with him, will go to the United States senate in place of Roger Q. Mills. Mills has alienated the Clark men by declaring for Hogg, but has not won over Hogg's supporters, because he left the state when Hogg wanted and needed help.

Uncle Jerry Acknowledges the Corn.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Secretary Jeremiah M. Rusk, on his way back to Washington after voting for Harrison at his home in Wisconsin was at the Grand Pacific yesterday.

"We were cleaned out, that's all there is about it," said he, referring to Tuesday. "In my opinion the tariff was the whole and sole cause of it. There had been a howl about the tariff everywhere; and then the Homestead affair made the laboring class discontented. Undoubtedly there has been a change of public sentiment as to the tariff. The reform spirit is growing, and the result has been a clean sweep."

Congratulatory Letters and Telegrams.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Several hundred letters and telegrams were received by Mr. Cleveland at his residence yesterday morning. A number also came addressed to Baby Ruth. Mr. Cleveland remained at home all morning. He still refuses to be interviewed with regard to the result of the election. Mr. Cleveland's private secretary also denied that the former was preparing a letter to the public. He volunteered the information that this step was considered Wednesday and that Mr. Cleveland decided not to write such a communication.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland at a Wedding.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—President-Elect Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland attended the wedding, last evening, of Miss Virginia Coudert and Mr. Frederick Benedict. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland's intimate friendship with the Benedict family is well known. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Coudert, and Archbishop Corrigan officiated at the ceremonies.

Chairman Carter Will Issue a Statement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—It was nearly noon when Chairman Carter of the national republican committee arrived at national headquarters yesterday morning. He admitted that "the jig was up," so far as the republicans were concerned. He said he would issue a statement for publication to-day.

Chairman Carter to the President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Chairman Carter of the republican national committee sent the following telegram to President Harrison yesterday:

The returns show that we have been defeated by a pronounced majority. The defeat can only be attributed to a reaction against the progressive policies of the republican party.

THOMAS H. CARTER, Chairman.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT

Fifty Persons Caught in a Falling Building.

TWO SCORES CRUSHED TO DEATH.

The Dead Bodies of Twenty Victims Already Removed and the Debris Known to Contain Many More.

VIENNA, Nov. 11.—A mill collapsed in Oprau, Moravia, Wednesday, shortly before the hands were to leave for the night. Almost 200 men were in the building at the time. When the walls began to crack the men in the basement and on the ground floor ran out. The men and girls above started down stairs. In the panic the stairway collapsed, and before anybody could struggle out of the ruins the whole building came down. About fifty persons were caught in the bricks and broken timbers. Several were rescued, but it is supposed that thirty-five or forty were killed. The dead bodies of twenty have been removed, and the debris undoubtedly will reveal many more.

Fifty men are at work clearing away the ruins.

The mill was flimsily built and the operation of heavy machinery on the second floor is believed to have caused the collapse. The police are looking for the builder and will arrest him.

Cabinet Making and Smashing in Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from Honolulu, dated November 2, says: "Yesterday a communication from the queen was presented to the legislature announcing that she had appointed the following members of her cabinet: Premier and minister of finance, Hon. W. H. Cornwell, vice M. Freeland; minister of foreign affairs, Hon. Joseph Nawali, vice Barker; minister of the interior, Charles T. Gulick; attorney-general, Charles Creighton, vice Neuman.

"Within five minutes after the announcement of the appointment Hon. L. A. Thurston leader of the opposition, offered a resolution of want of confidence on the ground that the new cabinet did not represent a majority in the house. After a debate of two hours and a half, the cabinet was voted out and the assembly adjourned until November 7.

The new ministers perform the work of the offices. No salaries can be paid, however, while the present dead-lock continues.

A Fatal Collision.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 11.—A very severe wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Wisconsin Central road, a few miles from Chippewa Falls, between the stations Colfax and Summit. A special and regular freight came into collison, smashing the engines of both trains and several freight cars. N. Tursig, a fireman, was crushed and almost instantly killed. A brakeman was also severely injured.

THE CRUISER CINCINNATI

Successfully Launched at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 11.—Amid the cheers of 3,000 people, yesterday afternoon, the Cincinnati, Uncle Sam's newest cruiser, slid gracefully from the ways into the water of the East river, where she was greeted by the guns of the Atlanta, Miantomowah and Philadelphia.

It was not a pretty launching, but mechanically it was a success. Rain fell steadily all the morning and the awning which had been placed over the platform to protect the invited guests from the weather did not fulfill its mission. Everybody got wet, from Secretary Tracy down, and many of the guests went away before the launching took place.

It was 3 o'clock when the props and blocks had been knocked out from under the hull and the cruiser rested in her cradle which was held on the ways by the sole piers. Then the saws cut through the sole piers and the vessel was clear. But she did not move.

At a word from Naval Constructor Fernald the hydraulic rams were manned. Suddenly, the great steel hull began to move, Miss Stella Mosby, daughter of the mayor of Cincinnati, raised a ribbon covered bottle in her hands and shattered it on the bow of the vessel. She said: "I christen thee Cincinnati."

It was just 2:12 p. m. as the great ship, with Ohio wine dripping from her prow moved from the spot where she has been built and with a gradually increasing pace, took the water with a graceful dip and rode majestically out toward midstream. She kept an even keel and her graceful lines and trim shape drew favorable comments from the experts who were present and cheers from the crowd. Half a dozen tugs surrounded her and towed her to the navy yard dock, where the work on her will be completed. On the platform with Miss Mosby when the christening took place where Secretary Tracy, Assistant Secretary Soley of the navy department; John B. Mosby, mayor of Cincinnati, J. M. Blair, L. B. Peck, George Gerke, William McAllister, William Meyers, of the chamber of commerce of Cincinnati; George P. Sterritt, Edward Dienst, Robert McRoberts and Scott Bonham, of the board of legislation of Cincinnati; Commodore Erber, commandant of the navy yard; Officer Gusman, of the Italian cruiser Basiano, and a number of other prominet people.

The band played inspiring airs on another platform while the rain beat down on their heads.

The Cincinnati is the second of the new war ships built at the Brooklyn navy yard. She is a protected cruiser of 3,183 tons displacement; 300 feet in length, forty-two feet beam, and with a mean draught of eighteen feet. She will have twin screws and vertical triple expansion engines of 5,000 horse power, with a steam pressure of 100 pounds. She will be one of the fastest vessels in the navy, as her average speed will be nineteen knots. Her armament will consist of a main battery of ten 5-inch rapid-firing guns and one 6-inch breech-loading rifle; a secondary battery of eight 6-pounders; four 1-pounders and two gatling guns. She will have torpedo tubes. Her keel was laid in 1890 and the cost of her hull and machinery will be $1,100,000.

A SOUTH AMERICAN WAR

By the Argentine Republic and Peru Against Chili Threatened.

PANAMA, Nov. 11.—According to advices from Chili, a war is imminent between the Argentine Republic and Peru on one sideand Chili on the other. The advices say: Peru is perfectly well armed and her forces have recently received 100,000 Mannlicher rifles of the latest pattern, together with many other formidable machines of war. A Chilian gentleman just arrived from Peru states that in that republic the approaching war with Chili affords the staple of conversation and it is a fact that pretense of friendship is only put forth as a means for gaining time. "In the Argentine Republic a vigorous recruiting of natives and foreigners is being prosecuted, and the government is feverish with excitement. There is no longer any doubt that a secret compact against Chili, offense and defensive, exists between the two republics named and they were only awaiting that which will serve, as a casus belli in order to throw an army into Targaca and other points on the frontier. The Chilian government has nearly opened its eyes to the threatened invasion and has ordered the steamers of the C. S. A. V. to be prepared for immediate incorporation into the navy, cabling for the Capitan Pratt to proceed to Valparaiso without a moment's delay.

Triumph of the French in Dahomey.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—A late official dispatch states that the French forces have captured Cana, a short distance from Abomey, the capital of Dahomey, after a vigorous resistance. The French loss was eleven killed and forty-two wounded. The capture of Cana is practically the end of the campaign against King Behanzin. Shortly after the receipt of the news that Cana had fallen into the hands of the French, the promotion of Col. Dodds, commander of the French forces, to be a general, was gazetted.

Late dispatches bring the news that on November 1 Col. Dodds captured Macuo, and on the 6th Cana. The total loss among the French in both battles was sixteen killed, including Lieut. Muerier, and eighty-two wounded, among them Lieut. Gay and Dr. Routh, whose wounds may prove fatal. The others are not seriously injured. The French are continuing their march to Abomey. King Behanzin's army has been reduced to 1,500. The Dahomeans are apparently determined to resist to the last. They are provided with modern weapons and use explosive bullets.

TORN BY A TEMPEST.

The Town of Colon Visited by a Norther,

LASTING FOR THREE ENTIRE DAYS,

And Accompanied by a Mighty Ground-Swell which Endangered the Shipping in the Harbor—A Gallant Battle With the Waves.

PANAMA, Nov. 13.—The town of Colon was visited by a "norther" on the 27th ultimo, which lasted three days. The morning opened with a cloudy, foreboding look, which to those accustomed to the yearly visitation, was sufficient reason to prophesy that a "norther" was in sight. A northwesterly groundswell commenced about 2 p. m., and gradually increased and moderated alternately until 4:30, when it increased to such an extent as to cause much anxiety to the shipping in port. The Royal Mail steamship Orinoco was first to leave her dock, and was quickly followed by the Avon of the same line, finding safe anchorage in the bay. The Pacific Mail steamship Colombia left her dock shortly after 5 o'clock.

The American schooner Nellie T. Morse, with a cargo of lumber consigned to Mr. J. A. Ceapedes, was moored at No. 4 dock and rode the night at her anchorage, although in a very dangerous position, and had to be made fast by five strong lines stretched across to and made fast on the capstan on the south side of the Royal Mail dock. Ineffectual efforts were made by the consignee to obtain the steam launch from the canal company to tow the schooner out. Early the next morning the steam tug used for quarantine purposes came to the assistance of the schooner and towed her out.

The weather continued bad all the morning without any signs of abatement. At 11 a. m. a strong wind sprang up which gradually increased with rough and rising seas.

Shortly after the Royal Mail steamer Avon left for Port Limon.

The Colombia, of the Pacific Mail line, fearing she would not be able to ride it out ran before the tossing waves to Fort Bello, where she found ample safety and remained until the following day.

The United States cruiser Concord remained at her achorage throughout the storm and gallantly battled with the boisterous winds and waves. The only casualty was that of a passenger schooner that sailed on the morning of the 27th for Bocas del Loro, and which put back to Colon on the 29th in a disabled condition. She had forty passengers on board and was four hours at the mercy of the elements. When she got back to Colon her mast and every piece of sail was gone.

The Experience of a Trained Nurse.

A trained nurse has a better opportunity to judge of the value of a remedy than a person in any other capacity. Her testimony is even more valuable than that of a physician. The following letter therefore is the most flattering testimony to the virtues of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure that could possibly be given.

Chicago, Ill., May 26, 1892.

Sylvan Remedy Co., Peoria, Ill.,

Gentlemen:—I am a regular registered nurse of several years practice and experience in Chicago and suburbs, and can give the highest references as to my standing and respectability as such nurse. Please allow me to tell those suffering, about Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure and what it did for two very sick patients I was called upon to care for. The first one was a very large, fleshy gentleman, whose temperature was very high, breathing very difficult, and incessant coughing. I sent to the drug store at once for a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure, giving it right to the minute on time, shaking the bottle thoroughly before using it. Give regularly for carelessness in this is the trouble with so many. Now before morning this terrible sufferer was breathing easily, skin moist and fever broken. Do not stop there yet. Keep on with the remedy, and in a severe case, as this one was, you will be surprised at the effect, as now he commenced to raise and such quantities that it, a case of typhoid pneumonia as this gentleman was down with, you could examine with me that Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is a wonderful remedy. I would love to tell more of its wonderful success here this past season, and of my other patients who are very sick, but with the remedy and care got up from their sickness in good condition. I shall be glad to answer all letters of inquiry.

DAILY REPUBLICAN.

B. K. HAMSHER. | W. F. CALHOUN.

HAMSHER & CALHOUN, Prop'rs

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

FRIDAY EVE., NOV. 11, 1892.

An editorial yesterday in the REPUBLICAN by mistake was made to say:

Every one of the editors of that paper [the H.-D.] is a Democrat, and every one of them voted for Harrison and Allgeld.

It should have read "Ieveland and Altgeld," as none of them voted for Harrison.

THE Pole who voted the Democratic ticket with the understanding that if Cleveland is elected his wages would be raised from $1.50 a day to $2 a day, and who shouted when he heard of Cleveland's election, "Now I will get four dollars a day," will patiently wait for its fulfillment.

THE Democratic free trade theories were called at the election. The country now wants the beautiful creation put into practice at once. The laborer who was promised a rise in wages wants to begin drawing his new wages as soon as possible and at the same time he wants the tariff taxes removed so that he can buy cheaper goods. It is now in order for the Democratic party to demonstrate by actual practice the truth of their theory. Nothing else is in order.

England Happy.

Wednesday, Nov. 9, the Pall Mall Gazette, London, England, rejoicing over the election of Cleveland, said:

Both the merchants and unemployed workingmen of England have reason to rejoice at the Democratic victory as, with a possibility of the reopening of the American markets to the goods of England capitalists will get a chance to procure some return on their money invested and the workingmen have an opportunity to get a decent price for their labor without the necessity for striking.

This is precisely the thing the Republicans have been preventing by a system of protection. It succeeded in accomplishing its purpose for 30 years, and during all that time the demand for labor was increased and the result of this stimulated demand was to increase American wages far beyond that of the wages of workingmen in any other country. In this sense the Republican party has always been the friend of labor. But the time has come when a feeling has grown up in the country that were it not for protection labor could be better compensated and at the same time the manufactured goods the laborer buys could be [sold to him cheaper, and As a result of this theory which we believe to be utterly and dangerously false the people have spoken in favor of a free trade tariff. Among those who have aided to bring about this verdict are thousands of laboring men the Republican party has honestly legislated in favor of by its tariff laws.

They have voted to open our ports to English goods, the product of English labor. The result of this, according to the Republican theory, must be, that American labor will be misplaced by the Amount of labor represented in the manufactures imported and the demand for labor here will be dipreciated in a corresponding ratio with the additional result that the labor that remains employed here must work at less wages.

The Pall Mall Gazette is speaking from a business standpoint and not a political one. It cares nothing for our candidates. Its interest is confined to one question: the American tariff. It knows the protective tariff has kept England's manufacturers out of this market and left its workmen idle and it is opposed to a protective tariff in America on that account. It knows a free trade tariff in America will let English goods into this market, give English labor employment, and help their manufacturers and for these reasons it rejoices in our Democratic victory.

Not a Waterloo.

Chicago Inter Ocean.

When in 1884 Mr. Cleveland was elected president the Democrats boasted that the Republican party had "met its Waterloo." They are boasting in the same manner now. They were mistaken in 1884; they are mistaken now.

Waterloo was not only a defeat, it was a rout. It was the end of an empire, the end of a system, the end of an idea in politics. The event of 1884 was a defeat to the Republican party only in the sense of a check made by the Democracy upon a contemplated advance of the Republican party. The like is true of the event on Tuesday. The Republican party has not abandoned an inch of the position that it had gained in long years of campaigning; it not only is not routed, it has not retreated; it simply has been prevented from advancing. Its center is unbroken; one or two of its outlying regiments have been thrown into confusion. That is all. The disturbance is but temporary. The main body of the army neither is weakened nor discouraged. It will be a pitched battle for control of congress in 1894, and between now and then will engage in some lively skirmishes for possession of positions of advantage in the states and municipalities of the Union; in 1896 it will make another attempt to capture the presidency —and will accomplish it.

The Republican forces are not demoralized. They are not indulging crimination of their officers. They know that the battle that was lost on Tuesday was planned as wisely as it was fought bravely. Circumstances, not bravery or strategy, gave a temporary victory to Democracy. The unexpected happened. No Democratic leader seriously expected Illinois to go for Cleveland; it went for him by a casualty only. A state issue became confused with a national issue, and temporarily was made paramount. That was all. Illinois to-day is a Republican state. But for four years the Democratic party will enjoy the advantage of an accidental victory.; at the end of that time the Republican party will resume its natural attitude and position of victory.

Huge European Vote Against the Republicans.

Chicago Tribune: One of the secondary causes of the election of Cleveland on Tuesday was the fact that of the new votes cast in the northern states by careful estimate 400,000 were those of men who have become naturalized since 1888 and voted for Cleveland, to not more than 50,000 who voted for Harrison. In the eastern states no man of foreign birth is entitled to vote who has not been five years in this country. In most of the western ones, with the exception of Ohio and Illinois, all that is necessary is a residence of a year in the state and the declaration of intention to become a citizen to make a voter of an alien. Thus a large number of the immigrants who came into the west during the last four years went to the polls Tuesday and seven-eighths of them cast their ballots for Cleveland and the Democratic ticket.

There were naturalized this fall in the city of New York 30,000 foreigners and 15,000 in Brooklyn and 15,000 in the rest of the states. Some of them were fraudulently naturalized, as they had not resided five years in the United States, nor even two years, for Tammany has no scruples on that point. Nine-tenths of these persons or 54,000 voted for Cleveland about 6,000 for Harrison. This gave him his majority in the state. The prediction made by Chancellor Kent fifty years ago that the foreign voters of New York City would rule the state has been fulfilled.

Thirty thousand men have been naturalized in Cook county since the early months of 1861. Five sixths of these, or 25,000 voted for Cleveland and the Democratic candidates. It is easy to see where the latter got their majorities. What is true of New York and Chicago is also true of Wisconsin, Indiana, and other cities or states in the east and west.

Kansas Electing a Confederate.

Harris, an ex-confederate soldier, was elected to congress for the state at large in Kansas on Tuesday. This is said to be the first ex-confederate elected to congress from any northern state. At first blush this looks like an awful thing to do, and yet when you look at it philosophically it is no more so than electing any other Democrat. The political views of Mr. Harris are in accord with his party, and when some of these views were being tried in the fire of battle Mr. Harris was in line on his side, a fair open foe. He put himself in position to receive as well as to deliver blows for his principles. He was willing to kill or to be killed for the sake of what he believed to be right; and when he was defeated and his principles, so far as they were represented by bayonets, were overthrown, he was willing to extend the hand of fellowship to those who were his contestants on the field of battle, which is more than can be said of many other men who have been elected to congress from northern states. Mr. Harris did more; when his section failed by its political follies to lift itself into prosperity, he left it and sought his fortune in the north, where prosperity reigns. The chances are, that, had Mr. Harris lived in the north, during the war, the same good sense that prompted him to leave that section, where business is subordinated to politics, would have led him to give the cause of the union his unstinted support.

So, looking at this event from this standpoint, Kansas might have sent a worse Democrat to congress than Mr. Harris, without going outside of the ranks of those Democrats who have never lived in the south, and who have not even visited that section.

They Will, They Must Do It.

Since the election, Senator John M. Palmer in an interview relating to the result of the election said:

The election of Cleveland is in effect a revolution. It crushes protection as embodied in the McKinley bill and delivers the agricultural and industrial labor of the country from the despotism of organized capital.

Congressman Springer was also interviewed and he said:

The majority is so large and the condemnation so emphatic that protection is forever doomed in this country.

Here is a very plain statement as to what the Democratic party proposes to do, and that is, that they will promptly remove the protective feature of the tariff. The Democratic party believes a free trade tariff is the best thing for this country, and notwithstanding the fact that England believes a free trade tariff in America is the best thing for England, the Democratic party will give this country a free trade tariff. Those who believe they will not do it don't know the Democratic party.

Mars Approaching the Earth.

The month of August next is expected to bring important, if not wonderful and sensational, developments in the study of our mysterious heavenly little kinswoman. Aug. 5 next Mars will arrive at a point directly opposite this earth, which it reaches but once in fifteen years, when the distance between the two planets will be reduced from 141,000,000 to 35,000,000 miles. Upon that night a thousand telescopes will be leveled at the planet, which will repose in refulgent beauty in the southern skies, and a thousand eyes will seek to pierce the veil of distance that conceals the knowledge for which science thirsts.

Wonderful results are expected by reason of the marvelous improvements that have been made in astronomical instruments within fifteen years and since the last most favorable observation was made. With the powerful lenses and the photographic appliances of today it will be as if the far away visitor, tempted by curiosity, had drawn nearer to the earth than ever. Although Mars will be 35,000,000 miles away, the powerful Lick telescope will magnify her to a size as if viewed at a distance of but 17,500 miles.—Washington Star.

Count Herbert Bismarck and the Italian.

I met at a recent entertainment a gentleman who had just arrived from Italy and who had gone much into Italian society during a prolonged stay in Rome. He told me that Count Herbert von Bismarck, when he lately visited that city, contrived to make himself very unpopular by his arrogant and aggressive manners. On one occasion he pushed so rudely against an Italian officer of high rank that the personage thus assailed gave vent to his indignation in very forcible terms. Without a word of apology the insolent Prussian retorted angrily:

"I am Count Herbert von Bismarck!"

"That, sir, is an explanation of your conduct, but it is no excuse," was the response.—Paris Cor. Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa remedy has given great satisfaction is the most severe cases of dysentery, It is certainly one of the best things ever made." My limbs felt lame, rickety and rheumatic, and I could not walk without much difficulty. I felt myself growing prematurely old, and my face began to look pinched and shriveled. I suffered considerable, was restless at night, very nervous, and grew very melancholy. My eyes were sore and I had catarrh. I tried many tonics, and bitters and blood purifiers, but failed to get better. I finally asked a physician which

Mothers frequently make a mistake in neglecting the cough of a child. I called in a physician who treated her three weeks without benefit. A neighbor insisted upon my trying Ballard's Horehound Syrup; it relieved her from the first dose and she began gaining flesh rapidly, and when we had used two bottles her cough had entirely disappeared. I would not be without it. It does not constipate my children. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is free from opiates. It's the most soothing Throat and Lung medicine in the world. Price 50c and $1.00. DO YOU NEED SPECTACLES?—Miss Mary Nesbitt, M. O., graduate of the Chicago Ophthalmic college, has opened rooms at No. 250 North Park street, where she is prepared to serve those who are in need of properly adjusted spectacles. Miss Nesbitt is a thorough and scientific optician, and is fully equipped with all the latest devices for properly adjusting lenses so as to correct the most intricate error of vision. Girls With Sea Legs
"Do you know," said a pretty girl the other day, "that the very latest fad is the sea roll? I noticed it first one day last week, and wondered if every girl had been imbibing or whether I myself was verging on delirium tremens. You know the style—a sort of side-to-side movement in consonance with the roll of a vessel. Well, that's it, and the reason of it is that with such a gait one can impress beholders with the idea of an ocean voyage—trip to Europe, etc., and that they have not yet become rid of their sea legs. Funny, isn't it?"

DIDN'T FIND ANY CASH.
First Attempted Burglary at the Syndicate Block.

On his rounds last night John Stober, the Merchant policeman, found the doors at the rear of May & Churchman's grocery store in the Syndicate Block forced open. He thought they had been left open. He secured them by putting up a prop and left a note for the proprietors. This morning it was found that robbers had been in the store, and that they had made an attempt to rob the place. They forced open the money drawer which was empty, and it is supposed that the thieves left in a hurry through fear of discovery. None of the cigars or canned goods are missing.

Down East Comedy To-Night
The comedy at the Grand to-night will be the "Uncle Josh Sprucsby" company, of which an exchange said.

Everybody who went to the McCasland Opera House last night was most agreeably surprised at the excellence of the attraction, "Uncle Josh Sprucsby." The play resembles 'The Old Homestead' very much, but is far better. It is written in four acts, and the curtain first rised on the home of Uncle Joshua Sprucsby, a New England farmer, whose broad humor and clear grit were much admired by the immense crowd, nearly every seat in the entire house being occupied.

The scenery was superb. In the third act a real saw mill in active operation occupies the stage, and the way it sawed planks, broad and "two by fours" was indeed surprising. The barn of Uncle Josh in the last act was also noticeable for its realistic appearance.

Mrs Grist gave a recitation, 'The Wine Cup," after which Rev Torrey addressed the club, complimenting the boys on their organization and giving them some splendid advise. An oyster supper was served. A Petrified Corpse.
At Hazlewood cemetery, near Montezuma Ia., one day last week, Charles Block wishing to remove the remains of his wife who died eight years ago, opened her grave. He found it full of water and was astonished at the weight of the coffin. The combined strength of five men finally brought the coffin out of the grave, and when opened it was found that the action of the water had turned the body to solid stone, preserving its natural appearance to a remarkable degree. Even a bouquet of flowers held by the dead woman was perfectly petrified. The skin was fair and the hair as black and glossy as in life.—Chicago Inter Ocean

Glitter in a Cottage
The biggest diamonds in Saratoga do not belong to any of the women who are stopping at the big hotels. They are the property of the stout woman who has a cottage on one of the streets leading up from Congress Hall. And she wears her gems day and night. She has them on when the sun is shining brightly and later when the sun has gone down and the stars have come out. Wherever she goes there goeth also the flash and the sparkle of the big gems.—Saratoga Letter

Saved by a Dog's Bark
The rescue made by a dog saved several persons from being burned to death in a fire which broke out in Brooklyn on a recent morning. A woman was awakened by the yelping of a dog and found the whole place in flames. She roused her husband and children, and inside of five minutes after they were out of the house the building was a mass of flames.

Prehistoric Giants
Near the Mediterranean coast, not far from Nice, are some grottoes which are remarkable for the prehistoric remains found in them. The value of these grottoes as a field of prehistoric research was recognized twenty years ago. They were at that time purchased by Mr Emile Riviere who, however, neglected to work them and sold them again to a quarry master, who, on removing some of the rock, unearthed some of the remains. Since then the grottoes have been in litigation much of the time and no one has been able properly to investigate them.

At present three skeletons found there are figuring in the law courts. One is of a man whose estimated height is 7 feet 9 inches. The head of the skeleton is missing. Another is the skeleton of a woman 6 feet 3 inches tall, and the third is the remains of a youth. These added to previous discoveries make seven skeletons of prehistoric men unearthed up to the present time in these caves. The Italian government has not attempted to exercise any rights in the matter.

Up to 1875 Mr. Riviere had discovered the skeletons of one man and two children, which were some twenty-nine feet below the level of the caves and were surrounded by undoubted paleolithic implements. The bed is a compact one of limestone.—Chicago News

Wedded Over Her Mother's Grave.
The most unique marriage ever performed in Baltimore took place Monday within the boundaries of Green Mount cemetery over the graves of the parents of the bride. The groom was Colonel Hendrick von Stamp, ex-minister of Denmark to the United States, a knight of the Order of Dannebrog, and the bride was Miss Mildred Hammond, daughter of the late General Hammond. Six carriages were occupied by the wedding party, but the vehicles were supposed to be a funeral cortege as they slowly moved through the cemetery. When the Hammond lot was reached the graves were strewn with flowers and the wedding was quickly performed, the bride standing upon the grave of her mother and the groom upon the grave of the bride's father. The bride is of one of Maryland's oldest families, being a remote descendant of President George Washington. She is forty and the groom forty four years old.—Baltimore Letter

The Human Journey of a Lathing Nail.
About fifty four years ago Washington Megahan, contractor and builder of this place, was working at his trade, that of a plasterer, in Blair county, when he accidentally swallowed a lathing nail. He was very much alarmed about the accident at the time, but as he felt no evil results from the extraordinary diet, in the course of two or three weeks he had forgotten all about it. Recently, however, Mr Megahan has felt a peculiar sensation in the palm of his left hand, and one day last week he was able to feel the outline of a small nail, and then it was that he remembered having swallowed the lathing nail fifty-four years before. The nail is rapidly working its way through the flesh of his hand, and when it has worked up under the skin Mr. Megahan will have a physician remove it.—Somerset Herald.

Luck in Photographing Lightning
One of the most remarkable and successful photographs of lightning ever known was made by Mr Rusk, at Haines Falls, in the Catskills, during the electrical display the other night. The lateral zigzag streaks of fire against the massive slope of Mount Lincoln were instantaneously caught in the exposure and are plainly and sharply shown in the print, which also shows bursting bolts of lightning in the upper atmosphere, where the vivid illumination casts wonderful shadows upon the surrounding mountains. The print is an interesting study of atmospheric electricity.—Albany Journal.

A Word About His Mother.
A neat report is recorded of the Marquis of Carmarthen, the Duke of Leed's eldest son, who, at the recent elections in England, was returned for Brixton by a large majority. The night before the election, while he was addressing a mass meeting he was interrupted by a cry of, 'Does your mother know you're out?'—a reference to his very youthful appearance. "Oh, yes, she knows I'm out," said the young candidate, "and she hopes tomorrow she'll know I'm in."—London Letter

The Failure of the Peach Crop.
The newspapers come filled with reports of the failure of the eastern fruit crops. The Maryland and Delaware crops. The Maryland and Delaware crop, which is the heaviest competitor we have for our California product, is reckoned at less than one-sixth of an average yield. The heavy rains have caused a dropping of fruit in the peach country. The loss is over $2,000,000 to the eastern peach growers.—Pomona (Cal.) Progress

THE VOTE IN MACON COUNTY

Official Pluralities for President, Governor and County Officers Complete.

County Clerk Hardy and his deputies are busy at work making the official footings on the vote cast in Macon county November 8. It is no small job, and it takes time. Owing to the fact that the work is incomplete the REPUBLICAN is unable to-day to print the full tabulated statement of the vote; but we are enabled to give the official footings as presented below, showing that Macon county knocked out another Republican victory, electing every candidate on the ticket.

THE VOTE IN THE STATE.

Here Are the Figures on Reversal in Illinois.

The Chicago Tribune publishes complete official and unofficial returns from every county in Illinois on President except twelve, and on governor except fourteen. The total vote fore Cleveland and Harrison in the state approximate 800,000. From the reports received Harrison has received 360,788 and Cleveland 389,815; plurality for Cleveland, 29,127. These figures include White and Hamilton counties, from which definite reports were not received on governor. Fifer's vote is 360,805 and Altgeld's 383,196; Altgeld's plurality, 22,891. The vote of White and Hamilton will increase Fifer's vote about 3,000 and Altgeld's 4,000, increasing the latter's plurality to 23,800 in the same counties as are represented on the presidential vote.

The missing counties and their probable pluralities are: Republican—Washington, 300; Vermilion, 1,600; Bureau, 500; Coles, 100; Pope, 600. Total 3,000. Democratic—Wayne, 50; Calhoun, 300; Franklin, 400; Randolph, 400; Madison, 600; Jackson, 300; Hardin, 300. Total 2,250.

The candidates for Congressmen-at-Large and state officers ran about even with the presidential ticket.

The vote for Bidwell and Link failed to come up to the expectations of the Prohibitionists. With thirty counties absent the vote for Bidwell amounts to 14,414. Thirty-nine counties are missing in governor, and Link polled in the remainder 12,077.

The People's party had more friends than old parties conceded On governor with thirty-nine counties missing Barnett received 10,734, and Weaver for president had 13,386 votes in seventy-two counties.

R. Miller, of Decatur. The bride received a number of fine presents.

Corn Being Gathered Slowly.

Illinois farmers are gathering their corn slowly. As a general thing farmers are finding their yield lighter than they expected. There is but little corn either old or new, being offered for sale at the present time in Illinois. The receipts at the principal trade centers in this portion of the state will be much lighter for the next three or four months. Some reports show the crop at least 20 per cent less than was expected, and some will be chaffy; other inquiries bring out the fact that farmers are disappointed in the yield to the extent of one-third to one-half of what they expected. Little corn has been gathered yet in Indiana, but enough is known to state that the crop is lighter than for several years.

Resigned.

F. P. Wells has resigned his position with the fire department and will go on the road for the wire mat company. Mr. Wells has been connected with the paid fire department for about a year, but he was formerly a member of the B's under the old volunteer system. His place will be filled by Lew Bickes.

Sad News.

TINPLATE FACTORY NOT CLOSED.

Elwood Industries Closed for New Machinery—Will Only Affect Wages.

ELWOOD, Ind., Nov. 10.—The dispatch announcing the suspension of Elwood tinplate and plate glass works is wrong, and is calculated to do this city harm. The tinplate plant is being fitted with new and additional machinery, and to make these repairs the plant closed down Tuesday night. It was the desire to do so a month ago, but rather than give the Democrats a chance to make capital out of the situation the directors postponed action until after election. There is no tinplate stock for sale except at par, and the managers intend to go ahead and increase their present capacity from 1,000 per week as at present to 2,500 a week in the near future. The manager says: "If Democrats remove the tariff the difference will have to come off the wages of employee; otherwise the election makes no difference with us. The country knows by this time that we can make tinplate and we mean to make it."

One of the blast furnaces in the glass works shut down yesterday for repairs. Otherwise there is no change. This is one of the largest plate glass factories in the world and there is no danger of going out of business.

INFESTED WITH WHITE ANTS

The Democrats are Not the Only Ones Who Have Captured the State House.

Some time ago it was discovered that the basement of the state house was infested with white ants. The attention of Professor Forbes, of Champaign, the state entomologist, was called to the matter, and he directed Professor Marten to make an investigation. A partial investigation was made several weeks ago, and Professor Martin was in Springfield yesterday completing his task. He finds five rooms in the basement so badly infested with the pests as to render them unsafe for the storing of books, papers and records, for which purpose they have been used. Great damage has already been done. The ants, it seems, have a rendezvous somewhere in the state house yard, and they have made their way through the massive stone foundation into the basement. The secretary of state, after receiving a report from Prof. Forbes, will refer the matter to the general assembly, and it will probably be necessary to make an appropriation to replace the wooden with metal racks, shelving and cases.

A MYSTERY NO MORE.

How Sam Wilson Came to be Shot at Urbana.

The mystery which surrounded the murder of Samuel Wilson on Tuesday night at Urbana, mention of which appeared in the REPUBLICAN on Wednesday, has been cleared up by Daniel Ulum, of Urbana, who gave himself up to the authorities and confessed to the murder. The story of Ulum, as corroborated by two young men who were with him, is about like this: Ulum and two friends named Sheppard and Edwards came to Champaign Tuesday evening from Urbana, where they attended a weekly drill of Company D, 4th Regiment Illinois National Guard, all being members of the company. After drill they started to walk home and on their way were attacked by a crowd of fellows, one of whom knocked Ulum down and was beating him, whereupon Ulum pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired it in the air. This scared the attacking party to such an extent that Ulum and his friends managed to get away. They were followed, however, and so showered with bricks that they stopped. One of the fellows jumped on Ulum from behind and was fast choking him into unconsciousness, when Ulum again pulled his revolver and reaching around under his left arm fired. The shot killed Wilson instantly, passing through his heart. Wilson was known as a local tough, and there is little doubt that Ulum was justified in shooting him.

Suit Filed to Compel the Striking Unions to Return to Work.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—United States District Attorney Erhardt this afternoon filed suit in the United States supreme court for an order to compel the striking unions to return to work. The petitions charged the unions with obstructing commerce and blockading the business of the city.

The charges are brought against the committee of five of the amalgamated council and the different presidents of the striking unions. The court ordered the offenders to appear in court next Saturday. The strikers are becoming restless and it is the general impression that a crisis in the trouble is not far away.

Probable End of the Strike.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—The strike is expected to be declared off before morning. The arms of the volunteer militia which is to augment the regular state troops arrived to-day and were in readiness for the march, but the gas and electric lights were started without any but police protection, and the call was expected to hinge upon the running of the street cars. The presidents of the street car companies could not arrange to start before morning, and the attempt was postponed until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The first cars will be run on St. Charles avenue, which is wide enough to permit the movement of the troops.

The governor had the arbitration committee of the strikers before him this evening and told them what he intended doing to-morrow. He said they were responsible for the crisis and the responsibility for any bloodshed would be upon their heads. The committee promised to convene the amalgamated council to-night and decide the question of calling the strike off. The deliberation is still going on and the strike of three days duration is likely to end at any moment.

A Motion Refused.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A motion made before Judge Bookstaver on the part of creditors of Burkhalter & Co., to set aside the order restraining the referee from proceeding with the case until the supreme court's order had been argued, was denied by the judge. The hearing of the argument on the order of the supreme court was set down for November 16. The order of the supreme court is for the appointment of an assignee to wind up the affairs of the defunct concern.

American Smokeless Powder.

A Tricycle for Land or Water.

The people along Ogden boulevard, near Douglas park, at 9:30 o'clock one morning stopped and looked with wonder at a slender man who was riding a queer machine toward the park. The amazement of those who followed was not diminished when they saw the man ride into the park, down the drive to the water and out on the lake. The man was T. J. Olsen, a boot and shoemaker.

The machine somewhat resembled a tricycle, but on the spokes of the drive wheels there were paddles and the little wheel was covered with sheet iron and served as a rudder. Underneath the main axle and about four inches from the ground two boats six feet in length and eighteen inches beam, about two feet apart, like the hulls of a catamaran, adapted the queer craft to the water. The speed attained was equal to that of a rowboat, and Mr. Olsen claimed it was more easily propelled.—Chicago News-Record.

Too Profitable a Fire.

The following is a copy of a letter from a town in New Hampshire received at the office of the Hartford Fire Insurance company one day last week: "I inclose $100 in this letter, which I want paid to the Hartford Fire Insurance company of Hartford. I thought I got more insurance than my right." Inclosed was a $100 bill of the First National bank of Concord, N. H. The writing is identified as similar to two previous communications received by the company, inclosing, respectively, $50 and $100, making a total of $250 already received from this one source.

It is evident that some beneficiary received more than his due, and is endeavoring to quiet his conscience by returning in installments the amount overpaid. Several thousand dollars have been received by the Hartford under similar circumstances.—Hartford Courant.

A Comfortable Warm Weather Dress.

"Never heard of a Chinese collapsing from the heat, did you?" asked a West side doctor as he fanned himself vigorously and occasionally tugged away at his shirt collar. "They may be heathen, but they have more common sense in apparel than all of us good Christians combined. I just passed one of the queued gentry standing at the corner of Madison and Clark at high noon, the sun pouring upon the top of his head and the thermometer registering 91 in the shade. He was cool as a cucumber.

"He wore no band about his shirt and no collar to shirt or blouse. Vest he had none. You and I have from twenty to twenty-five thicknesses of cloth close about our jugulars and then we say we are Christians. Christians know suicide to be sinful, don't they? Then how dare they choke themselves in blistering weather? And the Chinaman isn't idiot enough to clinch his undergarments to his back with perspiration producing suspenders, nor wear his shirt inside his trousers. He affects cool sandals and light hats, and in all shows a superb regard for his safety. Next to following the example of our first parents in their first estate, the Chinese plan in summer is the most comfortable style of dress upon the face of the earth."—Chicago Mail.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

AN EXTRA SESSION

Of Congress Likely to be Called in March

TO RATIFY THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE,

As Expressed at the Polls at the Recent Election, by the Enactment of a Reform Tariff Measure—An Imperative Demand.

NEW YORK, Nov 11—Amongst the immediate consequences of the verdict at the polls the strong probability of the fifty-third congress being called in extra session immediately after the inauguration is already discussed here

An extra session of the senate is always called at the beginning of a new administration, to confirm the officers and the new diplomatic agents of the United States abroad But the present election having turned on the question of domestic policy, it is obvious to experienced politicans leaders of all parties that an extra session of both houses of congress will almost inevitably result Secretary of the treasury Foster among others admits this The party he says challenged the judgment of the country on the McKinley bill and the result must be accepted as the work of the will of the people that a different policy shall be put into effect

Ex Secretary Bayard writes to a friend here to like effect adding that the people will expect this to be done without unnecessary delay

President Harrison it is stated has determined to leave unfilled the vacant missions to Italy, Portugal and Switzerland, also the assistant secretary ships of the treasury vacated by Messrs Crounse and Nettleton

Chairman Tom Carter may return to the land office, which he vacated to take charge of the campaign and hold for the remaining 100 days of Mr Harrison's administration if he so desires. It is stated that with the single exception of Secretary Rusk all the members of the cabinet had intimated to the president their intention of resigning on the 4th of March hence their plans will not be materially disarranged

The probability is discussed of the president paying a visit to his daughter and son-in law, Mr and Mrs McKee in Boston, before returning to Indianapolis and the practice of law

An Imperative Demand Which the Successful Party Must Obey

CHICAGO Nov 11—The Chicago Herald to-day says

There is no serious question in any quarter as to what Tuesday's popular verdict means It means that McKinleyism is most emphatically condemned Mr Foster Harrison's secretary of state expresses the truth when he says

The party challenged the judgment of the country on the McKinley bill and the verdict must be accepted as the will of the people that a different policy shall be adopted

Gen Palmer Mr Springer and other leading democrats express themselves to the same effect It is the will of the people that a different policy should be adopted with respect to the tariff and all democrats who have been chosen to represent the people in congress and in the White House must respect that will without hesitation, without timidity and without delay

When the people have expressed their will with tremendous emphasis as they have in this instance there is no reason why they should have to wait thirteen months for the newly chosen representatives to assemble and four or five months more for them to formulate and enact laws giving affect to the new policy demanded It is the opinion of the Herald that Mr Cleveland should convene the fifty third congress as soon as possible after the 4th of next March In view of the overwhelming expression of public opinion last Tuesday he can hardly do less

Congress need not sit all summer or enter upon the work of general tariff revision It can repeal the McKinley act except as to sugar which may well be reserved as a source of revenue in future in case of necessity, put wool and other raw materials on the free list reduce the rate on finished products to match in the manner indicated by the several house bills of the last session instruct the ways and means committee to prosecute the work of general revision during the recess and then adjourn This will be a good beginning considering that the World's fair is to be held next summer It will serve as a suitable notification to foreign exhibitors and others who will be here in great numbers that we have adopted a more liberal commercial policy and that we have invited them to come here for some more substantial purpose than to make an empty show

Is Unable to Account for the Democratic Landslide

LONDON, Nov 11 — Consul General New in discussing the election in America said 'There is no accounting for the landslide I don't understand it By the way what is the latest news from Japan?'

Omitting to reply to the question, the correspondent went on to ask Mr New, why, in his opinion, Indiana and Illinois had given a democratic majority

Mr New—Ah, yes, the fact is, Indiana was democratic for fifteen years with the exception of the years when Gen Garfield and Gen Harrison were elected to the presidency The legislature is largely democratic As to Illinois it appears that the foreign vote in Chicago has carried the state for the democracy The success of the Farmers' Alliance, or people's party, is certainly amazing It is likely that they have carried three or four western states on the silver question Republicans and democrats are not willing to go as far as the alliance people in regard to silver Hence Colorado has revenged herself by voting for the conglomeration of political heresies called the people's party By the way, what do you think of the lord mayor's show?"

The correspondent forgot to reply to this query, and returned to the charge with the question "Do you expect any radical tariff legislation?"

Mr New—In regard to the tariff any new legislation will be impossible until the next congress, which meets, according to law, in December, 1893, and any legislation then enacted would become operative only in the subsequent year The senate, which is apparently republican, would defeat any radical attempt to change the tariff"

Consul-General New was asked if he proposed to resign He said that he proposed to remain in office until his term expired He added that he attributed the surprising victory in New York to the efforts of Tammany hall.

Fifty-Third Congress.

NEW YORK Nov 11—More than forty-eight hours after the polls have closed it is still impossible to give the status of the several parties in the Fifty third congress officially The developments of the day tend to confirm to the point of absolute certainty, the statement made originally in the United Press dispatches that the balance of power in the next senate would be held by the third party although by a narrow margin The democrats will gain senators in New York, Wisconsin, Wyoming and California, giving them forty three The republicans will retain a successor to Senator Paddock from Nebraska, and also to Senator Perkins, from Kansas although the legislature in this state is still close The legislatures of Minnesota and Michigan have republican majorities The republican strength in the senate is thus reduced to forty-two, leaving to Senators Peffer Kyle and Stewart (who will succeed himself from Nevada) the power to control the organization by alliance with either of the parties The expectation is that they will operate with the democrats in this matter

Up to midnight the result in congressional districts in New Hampshire, Ohio Michigan Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and California was unsettled, the figures not having been fully reported The probabilities are that the state delegations in the next house of representatives will stand as follows

ENGLISH STATESMEN RETICENT,

But Evidently Pleased at the Political Revolution in the United States.

LONDON Nov 11—The correspondent of the United Press tried yesterday to get the opinions of prominent men upon the subject of the recent presidential election Members of the government who were applied to did not consider it discreet to comment on foreign politics and could not be induced to express their opinions

Mr Gladstone was wired, and replied that he was unable to offer any opinion

Mr Mundella president of the board of trade also declined to say anything beyond that he wished all happiness and prosperity to the United States, its people and its government.

Prof Brice said he could not with propriety as a member of the British cabinet express an opinion on questions relating to American party politics

Mr Howard Vincent, member for Sheffield, said that he regarded Cleveland's victory as showing that America was justly alarmed at a prospect of British protective retaliation and that England's injured industries are now triumphant.

Lord Salisbury, Mr Balfour and others declined to express opinions The democratic victory has already given great hopes to the Irish linen manufacturers consequent on the mistaken idea that the McKinley bill is to be repealed forthwith

South Dakoto Given Up to the Republicans

YANKTON, S D, Nov 11—Otto Peemiller, chairman of the democratic state committee, yesterday gave up hope that South Dakota would go for Wenver and acknowledged everything in the state as republican, even to the legislature. He says the independent promises for Weaver failed to be delivered, but that the democrats followed the advice of their leaders and voted for Weaver He regards the election as showing the populists much weaker than was expected in the state

Van Osdell, independent candidate for governor also gave up the fight yesterday Mr Van Osdell expended considerable money in the campaign and took defeat sorrowfully

Cleveland's Majority in Texas Greatly Reduced.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov 11—Cleveland's majority is greatly reduced from four years ago. There has been much swapping because of local and state elections and the Hogg men have scratched Cleveland extensively

The populist ticket has developed unexpected strength all over the state Speculation is rife here that Hogg, if the legislature is with him, will go to the United States senate in place of Roger Q Mills. Mills has alienated the Clark men by declaring for Hogg, but has not won over Hogg's supporters, because he left the state when Hogg wanted and needed help

Uncle Jerry Acknowledges the Corn.

CHICAGO, Nov 11—Secretary Jeremiah M Rusk, on his way back to Washington after voting for Harrison at his home in Wisconsin was at the Grand Pacific yesterday

"We were cleaned out, that's all there is about it," said he, referring to Tuesday "In my opinion the tariff was the whole and sole cause of it There had been a howl about the tariff everywhere, and then the Homestead affair made the laboring class discontented. Undoubtedly there has been a change of public sentiment as to the tariff The reform spirit is growing, and the result has been a clean sweep"

Congratulatory Letters and Telegrams

NEW YORK, Nov 11—Several hundred letters and telegrams were received by Mr Cleveland at his residence yesterday morning A number also came addressed to Baby Ruth Mr Cleveland remained at home all morning He still refuses to be interviewed with regard to the result of the election Mr Cleveland's private secretary also denied that the former was preparing a letter to the public He volunteered the information that this step was considered Wednesday and that Mr Cleveland decided not to write such a communication

Mr and Mrs Cleveland at a Wedding

NEW YORK, Nov 11—President Elect Cleveland and Mrs Cleveland attended the wedding, last evening, of Miss Virginia Coudert and Mr Frederick Benedict. Chairman Carter to the President

NEW YORK, Nov 11—Chairman Carter of the republican national committee sent the following telegram to President Harrison yesterday

The returns show that we have been defeated by a pronounced majority The defeat can only be attributed to a reaction against the progressive policies of the republican party

THE CRUISER CINCINNATI

Successfully Launched at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

BROOKLYN, Nov 11—Amid the cheers of 3,000 people, yesterday afternoon, the Cincinnati, Uncle Sam's newest cruiser, slid gracefully from the ways into the water of the East river, where she was greeted by the guns of the Atlanta, Miantomowah and Philadelphia

It was not a pretty launching, but mechanically it was a success Rain fell steadily all the morning and the awning which had been placed over the platform to protect the invited guests from the weather did not fulfill its mission Everybody got wet, from Secretary Tracy down, and many of the guests went away before the launching took place

It was 3 o clock when the props and blocks had been knocked out from under the hull and the cruiser rested in her cradle which was held on the ways by the sole piers Then the saws cut through the sole piers and the vessel was clear But she did not move

At a word from Naval Constructor Fernald the hydraulic rams were manned Suddenly, the great steel hull began to move Miss Stella Mosby, daughter of the mayor of Cincinnati raised a ribbon covered bottle in her hands and shattered it on the bow of the vessel She said 'I christen thee Cincinnati

It was just 2 12 p m as the great ship with Ohio wine dripping from her prow moved from the spot where she has been built and with a gradually increasing pace, took the water with a graceful dip and rode majestically out toward midstream She kept an even keel and her graceful lines and trim shape drew favorable comments from the experts who were present and cheers from the crowd Half a dozen tugs surrounded her and towed her to the navy yard dock where the work on her will be completed On the platform with Miss Mosby when the christening took place where Secretary Tracy, Assistant Secretary Soley of the navy department, John B Mosby, mayor of Cincinnati, J M Blair, L B Peck, George Gerke, William McAllister, William Meyers of the chamber of commerce of Cincinnati George P Sterritt Edward Dienst, Robert McRoberts and Scott Bonham, of the board of legislation of Cincinnati Commodore Erber commandant of the navy yard, Officer Gusman of the Italian cruiser Basiano, and a number of other prominent people

The band played inspiring airs on another platform while the rain beat down on their heads

The Cincinnati is the second of the new war ships built at the Brooklyn navy yard She is a protected cruiser of 4 183 tons displacement, 300 feet in length forty two feet beam, and with a mean draught of eighteen feet She will have twin screws and vertical triple expansion engines of 7,000 horse power with a steam pressure of 100 pounds. She will be one of the fastest vessels in the navy, as her average speed will be nineteen knots Her armament will consist of a main battery of ten 5 inch rapid-firing guns and one 6 inch breech loading rifle a secondary battery of eight 6 pounders, four 1 pounders and two gatling guns She will have torpedo tubes Her keel was laid in 1890 and the cost of her hull and machinery will be $1,100,000

A SOUTH AMERICAN WAR

By the Argentine Republic and Peru Against Chili Threatened

PANAMA Nov 11—According to advices from Chili, a war is imminent between the Argentine Republic and Peru on one side and Chili on the other The advices say Peru is perfectly well armed and her forces have recently received 100 000 Mannlicher rifles of the latest pattern together with many other formidable machines of war A Chilian gentleman just arrived from Peru states that in that republic the approaching war with Chili affords the staple of conversation and it is a fact that pretense of friendship is only put forth as a means for gaining time "In the Argentine Republic a vigorous recruiting of natives and foreigners is being prosecuted and the government is feverish with excitement There is no longer any doubt that a secret compact against Chili, offense and defensive exists between the two republics named and they were only awaiting that which will serve, as a casus belli in order to throw an army into Tarpaca and other points on the frontier The Chilian government has nearly opened its eyes to the threatened invasion and has ordered the steamers of the C S A V to be prepared for immediate incorporation into the navy, enabling for the Captan Pratt to proceed to Valparaiso without a moment's delay

Triumph of the French in Dahomey.

PARIS Nov 11—A late official dispatch states that the French forces have captured Cana a short distance from Abomey, the capital of Dahomey, after a vigorous resistance The French loss was eleven killed and forty-two wounded Th capture of Cana is practically the end of the campaign against King Behanzin Shortly after the receipt of the news that Cana had fallen into the hands of the French, the promotion of Col Dodds, commander of the French forces to be a general, was gazetted

Late dispatches bring the news that on November 1 Col Dodds captured Macuo and on the 6th Cana The total loss among the French in both battles was sixteen killed, including Lieut Muenier, and eighty-two wounded, among them Lieut Gay and Dr Routh, whose wounds may prove fatal The others are not seriously injured The French are continuing their march to Abomey King Behanzin's army has been reduced to 1,500 The Dahomeans are apparently determined to resist to the last. They are provided with modern weapons and use explosive bullets.

TORN BY A TEMPEST.

The Town of Colon Visited by a Norther,

LASTING FOR THREE ENTIRE DAYS,

And Accompanied by a Mighty Ground-Swell which Endangered the Shipping in the Harbor—A Gallant Battle With the Waves.

PANAMA Nov 10—The town of Colon was visited by a "norther" on the 27th ultimo, which lasted three days. The morning opened with a cloudy, foreboding look, which to those accustomed to the yearly visitation, was sufficient reason to prophesy that a "norther" was in sight A northwesterly ground-swell commenced about 2 p m, and gradually increased and moderated alternately until 4 30 when it increased to such an extent as to cause much anxiety to the shipping in port. The Royal Mail steamship Orinoco was first to leave her dock, and was quickly followed by the Avon of the same line finding safe anchorage in the bay The Pacific Mail steamship Colombia left her dock shortly after 5 o'clock

The American schooner Nellie T Morse, with a cargo of lumber consigned to Mr J A Cespedes, was moored at No 4 dock and rode the night at her anchorage although in a very dangerous position, and had to be made fast by five strong lines stretched across to and made fast on the capstan on the south side of the Royal Mail dock Ineffectual efforts were made by the consignee to obtain the steam launch from the canal company to tow the schooner out Early the next morning the steam tug used for quarantine purposes came to the assistance of the schooner and towed her out.

The weather continued bad all the morning without any signs of abatement At 11 a m a strong wind sprang up which gradually increased with rough and rising seas

Shortly after the Royal Mail steamer Avon left for Port Limon

The Colombia, of the Pacific Mail line, fearing she would not be able to ride it out ran before the tossing waves to Fort Bello, where she found ample safety and remained until the following day

The United States cruiser Concord remained at her achorage throughout the storm and gallantly battled with the boisterous winds and waves The only casualty was that of a passenger schooner that sailed on the morning of the 27th for Bocas del Loro, and which put back to Colon on the 29th in a disabled condition She had forty passengers on board and was four hours at the mercy of the elements When she got back to Colon her mast and every piece of sail was gone

The Experience of a Trained Nurse.

A trained nurse has a better opportunity to judge of the value of a remedy than a person in any other capacity. Her testimony is even more valuable than that of a physician. The following letter therefore is the most flattering testimony to the virtues of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure that could possibly be given.

Chicago, Ill, May 26, 1882

Sylvan Remedy Co, Peoria, Ill.,

Gentlemen—I am a regular registered nurse of several years practice and experience in Chicago and suburbs, and can give the highest references as to my standing and respectability as such nurse. Please allow me to tell those suffering, about Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure and what it did for two very sick patients I was called upon to care for The first one was a very large, fleshly gentleman, whose temperature was very high, breathing very difficult, and incessant coughing. I sent to the drug store at once for a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure, giving it right to the minute on time, shaking the bottle thoroughly before using it. Give regularly for carelessness in this is the trouble with so many. Now before morning this terrible sufferer was breathing easily, skin moist and fever broken Do not stop yet. Keep on with the remedy, and in a severe case, as this one was, you will be surprised at the effect, as now he commenced to raise and such quantities that in a case of typhoid pneumonia as this gentleman was down with, you could exclaim with me that Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is a wonderful remedy I would love to tell more of its wonderful success here this past season, and of my other patients who are very sick, but with the remedy and care got up from their sickness in good condition. I shall be glad to answer all letters of inquiry.

MRS. W. H WALTERS,

DAILY REPUBLICAN.

B. K. HAMSHER. | W. F. CALHOUN.
HAMSHER & CALHOUN, Prop'rs
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

FRIDAY EVE., NOV. 11, 1892.

AN editorial yesterday in the REPUBLICAN by mistake was made to say:

Every one of the editors of that paper [the H.-D.] is a Democrat, and every one of them voted for Harrison and Altgeld.

It should have read "Ieveland and Altgeld," as none of them voted for Harrison.

THE Pole who voted the Democratic ticket with the understanding that if Cleveland is elected his wages would be raised from $1.50 a day to $4 a day, and who shouted when he heard of Cleveland's election, "Now I will get four dollars a day," will patiently wait for its fulfillment.

THE Democratic free trade theories were called at the election. The country now wants the beautiful creation put into practice at once. The laborer who was promised a rise in wages wants to begin drawing his new wages as soon as possible and at the same time he wants the tariff taxes removed so that he can buy cheaper goods. It is now in order for the Democratic party to demonstrate by actual practice the truth of their theory. Nothing else is in order.

England Happy.

Wednesday, Nov. 9, the Pall Mall Gazette, London, England, rejoicing over the election of Cleveland, said:

Both the merchants and unemployed workingmen of England have reason to rejoice at the Democratic victory as, with a possibility of the reopening of the American markets to the goods of England capitalists will get a chance to procure some return on their money invested and the workingmen have an opportunity to get a decent price for their labor without the necessity for striking.

This is precisely the thing the Republicans have been preventing by a system of protection. It succeeded in accomplishing its purpose for 30 years, and during all that time the demand for labor was increased and the result of this stimulated demand was to increase American wages far beyond that of the wages of workingmen in any other country. In this sense the Republican party has always been the friend of labor. But the time has come when a feeling has grown up in the country that were it not for protection labor could be better compensated and at the same time the manufactured goods the laborer buys could be [sold to him cheaper, and As a result of this theory which we believe to be utterly and dangerously false the people have spoken in favor of a free trade tariff. Among those who have sided to bring about this verdict are thousands of laboring men the Republican party has honestly legislated in favor of by its tariff laws.

They have voted to open our ports to English goods, the product of English labor. The result of this, according to the Republican theory, must be, that American labor will be misplaced by the Amount of labor represented in the manufactures imported and the demand for labor here will be diprecisted in a corresponding ratio with the additional result that the labor that remains employed here must work at less wages.

The Pall Mall Gazette is speaking from a business standpoint and not a political one. It cares nothing for our candidates. Its interest is confined to one question: the American tariff. It knows the protective tariff has kept England's manufacturers out of this market and left its workmen idle and it is opposed to a protective tariff in America on that account. It knows a free trade tariff in America will let English goods into this market, give English labor employment, and help their manufacturers and for these reasons it rejoices in our Democratic victory.

Not a Waterloo.

Chicago Inter Ocean.

When in 1884 Mr. Cleveland was elected president the Democrats boasted that the Republican party had "met its Waterloo." They are boasting in the same manner now. They were mistaken in 1884; they are mistaken now.

Waterloo was not only a defeat, it was a rout. It was the end of an empire, the end of a system, the end of an idea in politics. The event of 1884 was a defeat to the Republican party only in the sense of a check made by the Democracy upon a contemplated advance of the Republican party. The like is true of the event on Tuesday. The Republican party has not abandoned an inch of the position that it had gained in long years of campaigning; it not only is not routed, it has not retreated; it simply has been prevented from advancing. Its center is unbroken; one or two of its outlying regiments have been thrown into confusion. That is all. The disturbance is but temporary. The main body of the army neither is weakened nor discouraged. It will be a pitched battle for control of congress in 1894, and between now and then will engage in some lively skirmishes for possession of positions of advantage in the states and municipalities of the Union; in 1896 it will make another attempt to capture the presidency —and will accomplish it.

The Republican forces are not demoralized. They are not indulging crimination of their officers. They know that the battle that was lost on Tuesday was planned as wisely as it was fought bravely. Circumstances, not bravery or strategy, gave a temporary victory to Democracy. The unexpected happened. No Democratic leader seriously expected Illinois to go for Cleveland; it went for him by a casualty only. A state issue became confused with a national issue, and temporarily was made paramount. That was all. Illinois to-day is a Republican state. But for four years the Democratic party will enjoy the advantage of an accidental victory.; at the end of that time the Republican party will resume its natural attitude and position of victory.

Huge European Vote Against the Republicans.

Chicago Tribune: One of the secondary causes of the election of Cleveland on Tuesday was the fact that of the new votes cast in the northern states by careful estimate 400,000 were those of men who have become naturalized since 1888 and voted for Cleveland, to not more than 50,000 who voted for Harrison. In the eastern states no man of foreign birth is entitled to vote who has not been five years in this country. In most of the western ones, with the exception of Ohio and Illinois, all that is necessary is a residence of a year in the state and the declaration of intention to become a citizen to make a voter of an alien. Thus a large number of the immigrants who came into the west during the last four years went to the polls Tuesday and seven-eighths of them cast their ballots for Cleveland and the Democratic ticket.

There were naturalized this fall in the city of New York 30,000 foreigners and 15,000 in Brooklyn and 15,000 in the rest of the states. Some of them were fraudulently naturalized, as they had not resided five years in the United States, nor even two years, for Tammany has no scruples on that point. Nine-tenths of these persons or 54,000 voted for Cleveland about 6,000 for Harrison. This gave him his majority in the state. The prediction made by Chancellor Kent fifty years ago that the foreign voters of New York City would rule the state has been fulfilled.

Thirty thousand men have been naturalized in Cook county since the early months of 1861. Five sixths of these, or 25,000 voted for Cleveland and the Democratic candidates. It is easy to see where the latter got their majorities. What is true of New York and Chicago is also true of Wisconsin, Indiana, and other cities or states in the east and west.

Kansas Electing a Confederate.

Harris, an ex-confederate soldier, was elected to congress for the state at large in Kansas on Tuesday. This is said to be the first ex-confederate elected to congress from any northern state. At first blush this looks like an awful thing to do, and yet when you look at it philosophically it is no more so than electing any other Democrat. The political views of Mr. Harris are in accord with his party, and when some of these views were being tried in the fire of battle Mr. Harris was in line on his side, a fair open foe. He put himself in position to receive as well as to deliver blows for his principles. He was willing to kill or to be killed for the sake of what he believed to be right; and when he was defeated and his principles, so far as they were represented by bayonets, were overthrown, he was willing to extend the hand of fellowship to those who were his contestants on the field of battle, which is more than can be said of many other men who have been elected to congress from northern states. Mr. Harris did more; when his section failed by its political follies to lift itself into prosperity, he left it and sought his fortune in the north, where prosperity reigns. The chances are, that, had Mr. Harris lived in the north, during the war, the same good sense that prompted him to leave that section, where business is subordinated to politics, would have led him to give the cause of the union his unstinted support.

So, looking at this event from this standpoint, Kansas might have sent a worse Democrat to congress than Mr. Harris, without going outside of the ranks of those Democrats who have never lived in the south, and who have not even visited that section.

They Will, They Must Do It.

Since the election, Senator John M. Palmer in an interview relating to the result of the election said:

The election of Cleveland is in effect a revolution. It crushes protection as embodied in the McKinley bill and delivers the agricultural and industrial labor of the country from the despotism of organized capital.

Congressman Springer was also interviewed and he said:

The majority is so large and the condemnation so emphatic that protection is forever doomed in this country.

Here is a very plain statement as to what the Democratic party proposes to do, and that is, that they will promptly remove the protective feature of the tariff. The Democratic party believes a free trade tariff is the best thing for this country, and notwithstanding the fact that England believes a free trade tariff in America is the best thing for England, the Democratic party will give the country a free trade tariff. Those who believe they will not do it don't know the Democratic party.

Mars Approaching the Earth.

The month of August next is expected to bring important, if not wonderful and sensational, developments in the study of our mysterious heavenly little kinswoman. Aug. 5 next Mars will arrive at a point directly opposite this earth, which it reaches but once in fifteen years, when the distance between the two planets will be reduced from 141,000,000 to 35,000,000 miles. Upon that night a thousand telescopes will be leveled at the planet, which will repose in refulgent beauty in the southern skies, and a thousand eyes will seek to pierce the veil of distance that conceals the knowledge for which science thirsts.

Wonderful results are expected by reason of the marvelous improvements that have been made in astronomical instruments within fifteen years and since the last most favorable observation was made. With the powerful lenses and the photographic appliances of today it will be as if the far away visitor, tempted by curiosity, had drawn nearer to the earth than ever. Although Mars will be 35,000,000 miles away, the powerful Lick telescope will magnify her to a size as if viewed at a distance of but 17,500 miles.—Washington Star.

Count Herbert Bismarck and the Italian.

I met at a recent entertainment a gentleman who had just arrived from Italy, and who had gone much into Italian society during a prolonged stay in Rome. He told me that Count Herbert von Bismarck, when he lately visited that city, contrived to make himself very unpopular by his arrogant and aggressive manners. On one occasion he pushed so rudely against an Italian officer of high rank that the personage thus assailed gave vent to his indignation in very forcible terms. Without a word of apology the insolent Prussian retorted angrily:

"I am Count Herbert von Bismarck!"

"That, sir, is an explanation of your conduct, but it is no excuse," was the response.—Paris Cor. Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa remedy has given great satisfaction is the most severe cases of dysentery, It is certainly one of the best things ever made." My limbs felt lame, rickety and rheumatic, and I could not walk without tottering. I felt myself growing prematurely old, and my face began to look pinched and shriveled. I suffered considerable, was restless at night, very nervous, and growing very melancholy. My eyes were sore and I had catarrh. I tried many tonics, and bitters and blood purifiers, but failed to get better. I finally asked a physician which

A Mother's Mistake.

Mothers frequently make a mistake in neglecting the cough of a child. A Fort Wayne, Ind., lady writes: My little daughter, 6 years old, had a severe cough but as it was nothing unusual I thought nothing of it, and allowed it to run on for four or five weeks, when it became so obstinate she began losing flesh. I called in a physician who treated her three weeks without benefit. A neighbor insisted upon my trying Ballard's Horehound Syrup; it relieved her from the first dose and she began gaining flesh rapidly, and when we had used two bottles her cough had entirely disappeared. I would not be without it. It does not constipate my children. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is free from opiates. It's the most soothing Throat and Lung medicine in the world. Price 50c and $1.00. Girls With Sea Legs.

"Do you know," said a pretty girl the other day, "that the very latest fad is the sea roll? I noticed it first one day last week, and wondered if every girl had been imbibing or whether I myself was verging on delirium tremens. You know the style—a sort of side-to-side movement in consonance with the roll of a vessel. Well, that's it, and the reason of it is that with such a gait one can impress beholders with the idea of an ocean voyage—trip to Europe, etc., and that they have not yet become rid of their sea legs. Funny, isn't it?"

Afternoon Card Party.

A delightful card party was given by Mrs. F. K. Bartholomew yesterday afternoon at her home. About sixty ladies enjoyed six-handed euchre. Bartholomew, Mrs. Ed. Carter and Mrs. T. L. Antrim. At 6 o'clock a dainty supper was served which was much enjoyed by all.

Big Money in Old Shoes.

A large business in old shoes is done in London. There is always a ready market for the old shoes which have been worn by the court and the nobility. It is said that many respectable people whom it might be supposed would be indifferent to the saving which results are always on the lookout for bargains in second-hand shoes, which are often but little the worse for wear. Ladies whose feet are tender are said to be among the frequent patrons of the old shoe shops.

The most interesting dramatic novelty of the season will be presented at the Grand Thursday evening, Nov. 17th in the production of Elmer E. First Attempted Burglary at the Syndicate Block.

On his rounds last night John Stober, the Merchant policeman, found the doors at the rear of May & Churchman's grocery store in the Syndicate Block forced open. He thought they had been left open. He secured them by putting up a prop and left a note for the proprietors. This morning it was found that robbers had been in the store, and that they had made an attempt to rob the place. They forced open the money drawer which was empty, and it is supposed that the thieves left in a hurry through fear of discovery. None of the cigars or canned goods are missing.

Down East Comedy To-Night.

The comedy at the Grand to-night will be the "Uncle Josh Sprucsby" company, of which an exchange said:

Everybody who went to the McCasland Opera House last night was most agreeably surprised at the excellence of the attraction, "Uncle Josh Sprucsby" The play resembles 'The Old Homestead" very much, but is far better. It is written in four acts, and the curtain first raised on the home of Uncle Joshua Sprucsby, a New England farmer, whose broad humor and clear grit were much admired by the immense crowd, nearly every seat in the entire house being occupied.

The scenery was superb. In the third act a real saw mill in active operation occupies the stage, and the way it sawed planks, broad and "two by fours" was indeed surprising. The barn of Uncle Josh in the last act was also noticable for its realistic appearance.

AN interesting meeting of the Anti-Tobacco and Whisky club was held last evening at the residence of A. T. Grist. A review of the history of the club was read. Fred Perry gave a recitation, "Sowing and Reaping." Willie Mackey read an essay, "The Two Roads." Mrs. Grist gave a recitation, "The Wine Cup," after which Rev. Torrey addressed the club, complimenting the boys on their organization and giving them some splendid advise. An oyster supper was served. Many of the parents of the boys were present.

A Petrified Corpse.

At Hazlewood cemetery, near Montezuma, Ia., one day last week, Charles Block, wishing to remove the remains of his wife, who died eight years ago, opened her grave. He found it full of water and was astonished at the weight of the coffin. The combined strength of five men finally brought the coffin out of the grave, and when opened it was found that the action of the water had turned the body to solid stone, preserving its natural appearance to a remarkable degree. Even a bouquet of flowers held by the dead woman was perfectly petrified. The skin was fair and the hair as black and glossy as in life.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Glitter in a Cottage.

The biggest diamonds in Saratoga do not belong to any of the women who are stopping at the big hotels. They are the property of the stout woman who has a cottage on one of the streets leading up from Congress Hall. And she wears her gems day and night. She has them on when the sun is shining brightly and later when the sun has gone down and the stars have come out. Wherever she goes there goeth also the flash and the sparkle of the big gems.—Saratoga Letter.

Saved by a Dog's Bark.

The noise made by a dog saved several persons from being burned to death in a fire which broke out in Brooklyn on a recent morning. A woman was awakened by the yelping of a dog and found the whole place in flames. She roused her husband and children, and inside of five minutes after they were out of the house the building was a mass of flames.

The Largest American Flag.

The largest American flag ever made will float from the top of a very lofty "liberty pole" in front of the Administration building at the World's fair. Upon request the state of Washington will furnish this big flagstaff, as well as two or three others of the largest that are required by the exposition.

The Social Swim in Atchison.

The young men who attended the lawn party last night took extra collars along. One used six. The thermometer registered nearly 90 at midnight.—Atchison Globe.

A Texas Event.

Mr. Cargill, living on Green's creek, and Miss Sallie Jay, of Round Hole Branch, were nuptiated last Sunday. Let the good work go on.—Dublin (Tex.) Progress.

Charles Goolidge, of Tacoma, Wash., could not get a marriage license a few days ago because he forgot the name of his bride. He knew her first name was Kittie, but could not remember her last name.

Prehistoric Giants.

Near the Mediterranean coast, not far from Nice, are some grottoes which are remarkable for the prehistoric remains found in them. The value of these grottoes as a field of prehistoric research was recognized twenty years ago. They were at that time purchased by Mr. Emile Riviere, who, however, neglected to work them, and sold them again to a quarry master, who, on removing some of the rock, unearthed some of the remains. Since then the grottoes have been in litigation much of the time and no one has been able properly to investigate them.

At present three skeletons found there are figuring in the law courts. One is of a man whose estimated height is 7 feet 9 inches. The head of the skeleton is missing. Another is the skeleton of a woman 6 feet 3 inches tall, and the third is the remains of a youth. These added to previous discoveries make seven skeletons of prehistoric men unearthed up to the present time in these caves. The Italian government has not attempted to exercise any rights in the matter.

Up to 1875 Mr. Riviere had discovered the skeletons of one man and two children, which were some twenty-nine feet below the level of the caves and were surrounded by undoubted paleolithic implements. The bed is a compact one of limestone.—Chicago News.

Wedded Over Her Mother's Grave.

The most unique marriage ever performed in Baltimore took place Monday within the boundaries of Green Mount cemetery over the graves of the parents of the bride. The groom was Colonel Hendrick von Stamp, ex-minister of Denmark to the United States, a knight of the Order of Dannebrog, and the bride was Miss Mildred Hammond, daughter of the late General Hammond. Six carriages were occupied by the wedding party, but the vehicles were supposed to be a funeral cortege as they slowly moved through the cemetery. When the Hammond lot was reached the graves were strewn with flowers and the wedding was quickly performed, the bride standing upon the grave of her mother and the groom upon the grave of the bride's father. The bride is of one of Maryland's oldest families, being a remote descendant of President George Washington. She is forty and the groom forty-four years old.—Baltimore Letter.

The Human Journey of a Lathing Nail.

About fifty-four years ago Washington Megahan, contractor and builder of this place, was working at his trade, that of a plasterer, in Blair county, when he accidentally swallowed a lathing nail. He was very much alarmed about the accident at the time, but as he felt no evil results from the extraordinary diet, in the course of two or three weeks he had forgotten all about it. Recently, however, Mr. Megahan has felt a peculiar sensation in the palm of his left hand, and one day last week he was able to feel the outline of a small nail, and then it was that he remembered having swallowed the lathing nail fifty-four years before. The nail is rapidly working its way through the flesh of his hand, and when it has worked up under the skin Mr. Megahan will have a physician remove it.—Somerset Herald.

Luck in Photographing Lightning.

One of the most remarkable and successful photographs of lightning ever known was made by Mr. Rusk, at Haines Falls, in the Catskills, during the electrical display the other night. The lateral zigzag streaks of fire against the massive slope of Mount Lincoln were instantaneously caught in the exposure and are plainly and sharply shown in the print, which also shows bursting bolts of lightning in the upper atmosphere, where the vivid illumination casts wonderful shadows upon the surrounding mountains. The print is an interesting study of atmospheric electricity.—Albany Journal.

A Word About His Mother.

A neat report is recorded of the Marquis of Carmarthen, the Duke of Leed's eldest son, who, at the recent elections in England, was returned for Brixton by a large majority. The night before the election, while he was addressing a mass meeting, he was interrupted by a cry of, "Does your mother know you're out?"—a reference to his very youthful appearance. "Oh, yes, she knows I'm out," said the young candidate, "and she hopes tomorrow she'll know I'm in."—London Letter.

The Failure of the Peach Crop.

The newspapers come filled with reports of the failure of the eastern fruit crops. The Maryland and Delaware peach crop, which is the heaviest competitor we have for our California product, is reckoned at less than one-sixth of an average yield. The heavy rains have caused a dropping of fruit in the peach country. The loss is over $2,000,000 to the eastern peach growers.—Pomona (Cal.) Progress.

PROBABLY the most valuable load of grain that has been marketed in Delavan was one that was hauled in last week and marketed. It was hardly grain, either, it was clover seed, and its value was $650. There was something like a hundred bushels of it.

ILLITERATE Democrats at Bloomington on Tuesday were provided with pieces of blank paper just the size of the ballot. A little hole was cut in this paper just the size of the circle, and when placed over the regular ballot would leave exposed the circle in front of the Democratic ticket. In this they were instructed to make a cross. This saved many a vote to that party.

THE VOTE IN MACON COUNTY

Official Pluralities for President, Governor and County Officers Complete.

County Clerk Hardy and his deputies are busy at work making the official footings on the vote cast in Macon county November 8. It is no small job, and it takes time. Owing to the fact that the work is incomplete the REPUBLICAN is unable to-day to print the full tabulated statement of the vote; but we are enabled to give the official footings as presented below, showing that Macon county knocked out another Republican victory, electing every candidate on the ticket.

THE VOTE IN THE STATE.

Here Are the Figures on Reversal in Illinois.

The Chicago Tribune publishes complete official and unofficial returns from every county in Illinois on President except twelve, and on governor except fourteen. The total vote fore Cleveland and Harrison in the state approximate 800,000. From the reports received Harrison has received 360,788 and Cleveland 389,815; plurality for Cleveland, 29,127. These figures include White and Hamilton counties, from which definite reports were not received on governor. Fifer's vote is 360,305 and Altgeld's 383,196; Altgeld's plurality, 22,891. The vote of White and Hamilton will increase Fifer's vote about 3,000 and Altgeld's 4,000, increasing the latter's plurality to 23,800 in the same counties as are represented on the presidential vote.

The missing counties and their probable pluralities are: Republican—Washington, 300; Vermilion, 1,600; Bureau, 500; Coles, 100; Pope, 600. Total 3,000. Democratic—Wayne, 50; Calhoun, 300; Franklin, 400; Randolph, 400; Madison, 500; Jackson, 300; Hardin. 300. Total 2,250.

The candidates for Congressmen-at-Large and state officers ran about even with the presidential ticket.

The vote for Bidwell and Link failed to come up to the expectations of the Prohibitionists. With thirty counties absent the vote for Bidwell amounts to 14,414. Thirty-nine counties are missing in governor, and Link polled in the remainder 12,077.

The People's party had more friends than old parties conceded On governor with thirty-nine counties missing Barnett received 10,734, and Weaver for president had 13,386 votes in seventy-two counties.

Miller, of Decatur. The bride received a number of fine presents.

Corn Being Gathered Slowly.

Illinois farmers are gathering their corn slowly. As a general thing farmers are finding their yield lighter than they expected. There is but little corn either old or new, being offered for sale at the present time in Illinois. The receipts at the principal trade centers in this portion of the state will be much lighter for the next three or four months. Some reports show the crop at least 20 per cent less than was expected, and some will be chaffy; other inquiries bring out the fact that farmers are disappointed in the yield to the extent of one-third to one-half of what they expected. Little corn has been gathered yet in Indiana, but enough is known to state that the crop is lighter than for several years.

Resigned.

F. P. Wells has resigned his position with the fire department and will go on the road for the wire mat company. Mr. Wells has been connected with the paid fire department for about a year, but he was formerly a member of the 3's under the old volunteer system. His place will be filled by Lew Bickes.

Sad News.

J. Frank Jones on yesterday received a telegram from Denver, Colorado, announcing the death of his father, J. G. Jones. As he did not receive the telegram until after it had laid in the Decatur office over thirteen hours, as he claims, he was unable to attend the funeral.

TINPLATE FACTORY NOT CLOSED.

Elwood Industries Closed for New Machinery—Will Only Affect Wages.

ELWOOD, Ind., Nov. 10.—The dispatch announcing the suspension of Elwood tinplate and plate glass works is wrong, and is calculated to do this city harm. The tinplate plant is being fitted with new and additional machinery, and to make these repairs the plant closed down Tuesday night. It was the desire to do so a month ago, but rather than give the Democrats a chance to make capital out of the situation the directors postponed action until after election. There is no tinplate stock for sale except at par, and the managers intend to go ahead and increase their present capacity from 1,000 per week as at present to 2,500 a week in the near future. The manager says: "If Democrats remove the tariff the difference will have to come off the wages of employes; otherwise the election makes no difference with us. The country knows by this time that we can make tinplate and we mean to make it."

One of the blast furnaces in the glass works shut down yesterday for repairs. Otherwise there is no change. This is one of the largest plate glass factories in the world and there is no danger of going out of business.

INFESTED WITH WHITE ANTS

The Democrats are Not the Only Ones Who Have Captured the State House.

Some time ago it was discovered that the basement of the state house was infested with white ants. The attention of Professor Forbes, of Champaign, the state entomologist, was called to the matter, and he directed Professor Marten to make an investigation. A partial investigation was made several weeks ago, and Professor Martin was in Springfield yesterday completing his task. He finds five rooms in the basement so badly infested with the pests as to render them unsafe for the storing of books, papers and records, for which purpose they have been used. Great damage has already been done. The ants, it seems, have a rendezvous somewhere in the state house yard, and they have made their way through the massive stone foundation into the basement. The secretary of state, after receiving a report from Prof. Forbes, will refer the matter to the general assembly, and it will probably be necessary to make an appropriation to replace the wooden with metal racks, shelving and cases.

A MYSTERY NO MORE.

How Sam Wilson Came to be Shot at Urbana.

The mystery which surrounded the murder of Samuel Wilson on Tuesday night at Urbana, mention of which appeared in the REPUBLICAN on Wednesday, has been cleared up by Daniel Ulam, of Urbana, who gave himself up to the authorities and confessed to the murder. The story of Ulam, as corroborated by two young men who were with him, is about like this: Ulam and two friends named Sheppard and Edwards came to Champaign Tuesday evening from Urbana, where they attended a weekly drill of Company D, 4th Regiment Illinois National Guard, all being members of the company. After drill they started to walk home and on their way were attacked by a crowd of fellows, one of whom knocked Ulam down and was beating him, whereupon Ulam pulled a revolved from his pocket and fired it in the air. This scared the attacking party to such an extent that Ulam and his friends managed to get away. They were followed, however, and so showered with bricks that they stopped. One of the fellows jumped on Ulam from behind and was fast choking him into unconsciousness, when Ulam again pulled his revolver and reaching around under his left arm fired. The shot killed Wilson instantly, passing through his heart. Wilson was known as a local tough, and there is little doubt that Ulam was justified in shooting him.

Suit Filed to Compel the Striking Unions to Return to Work.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—United States District Attorney Erhardt this afternoon filed suit in the United States supreme court for an order to compel the striking unions to return to work. The petitions charged the unions with obstructing commerce and blockading the business of the city.

The charges are brought against the committee of five of the amalgamated council and the different presidents of the striking unions. The court ordered the offenders to appear in court next Saturday. The strikers are becoming restless and it is the general impression that a crisis in the trouble is not far away.

Probable End of the Strike.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—The strike is expected to be declared off before morning. The arms of the volunteer militia which is to augment the regular state troops arrived to-day and were in readiness for the march, but the gas and electric lights were started without any but police protection, and the call was expected to hinge upon the running of the street cars. The presidents of the street car companies could not arrange to start before morning, and the attempt was postponed until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The first cars will be run on St. Charles avenue, which is wide enough to permit the movement of the troops.

The governor had the arbitration committee of the strikers before him this evening and told them what he intended doing to-morrow. He said they were responsible for the crisis and the responsibility for any bloodshed would be upon their heads. The committee promised to convene the amalgamated council to-night and decide the question of calling the strike off. The deliberation is still going on and the strike of three days duration is likely to end at any moment.

A Motion Refused.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A motion made before Judge Bookstaver on the part of creditors of Burkhalter & Co., to set aside the order restraining the referee from proceeding with the case until the supreme court's order had been argued, was denied by the judge. The hearing of the argument on the order of the supreme court was set down for November 16. The order of the supreme court is for the appointment of an assignee to wind up the affairs of the defunct concern.

American Smokeless Powder.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The annual report of the naval ordnance bureau, soon to be made public, will show that a satisfactory grade of smokeless powder for all guns up to 6-inch caliber and a high explosive—emmensite—of American invention and production, have been obtained.

A Tricycle for Land or Water.

The people along Ogden boulevard, near Douglas park, at 9:30 o'clock one morning stopped and looked with wonder at a slender man who was riding a queer machine toward the park. The amazement of those who followed was not diminished when they saw the man ride into the park, down the drive to the water and out on the lake. The man was T. J. Olsen, a boot and shoemaker.

The machine somewhat resembled a tricycle, but on the spokes of the drive wheels there were paddles and the little wheel was covered with sheet iron and served as a rudder. Underneath the main axle and about four inches from the ground two boats six feet in length and eighteen inches beam, about two feet apart, like the hulls of a catamaran, adapted the queer craft to the water. The speed attained was equal to that of a rowboat, and Mr. Olsen claimed it was more easily propelled.—Chicago News-Record.

Too Profitable a Fire.

The following is a copy of a letter from a town in New Hampshire received at the office of the Hartford Fire Insurance company one day last week: "I inclose $100 in this letter, which I want paid to the Hartford Fire Insurance company of Hartford. I thought I got more insurance than my right." Inclosed was a $100 bill of the First National bank of Concord, N. H. The writing is identified as similar to two previous communications received by the company, inclosing, respectively, $50 and $100, making a total of $250 already received from this one source.

It is evident that some beneficiary received more than his due, and is endeavoring to quiet his conscience by returning in installments the amount overpaid. Several thousand dollars have been received by the Hartford under similar circumstances.—Hartford Courant.

A Comfortable Warm Weather Dress.

"Never heard of a Chinese collapsing from the heat, did you?" asked a West side doctor as he fanned himself vigorously and occasionally tugged away at his shirt collar. "They may be heathen, but they have more common sense in apparel than all of us good Christians combined. I just passed one of the queued gentry standing at the corner of Madison and Clark at high noon, the sun pouring upon the top of his head and the thermometer registering 91 in the shade. He was cool as a cucumber.

"He wore no band about his shirt and no collar to shirt or blouse. Vest he had none. You and I have from twenty to twenty-five thicknesses of cloth close about our jugulars and then we say we are Christians. Christians know suicide to be sinful, don't they? Then how dare they choke themselves in blistering weather? And the Chinaman isn't idiot enough to clinch his undergarments to his back with perspiration producing suspenders, nor wear his shirt inside his trousers. He affects cool sandals and light hats, and in all shows a superb regard for his safety. Next to following the example of our first parents in their first estate, the Chinese plan in summer is the most comfortable style of dress upon the face of the earth."—Chicago Mail.
